

::: YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE :::

Have you ever thought "I can do more, and be more"?
Are you ready for a life-changing experience?

About 1.8 million of people were killed from 1975-1979. We are now trying to rebuild our lives. I have often asked myself, "How can an ordinary person like me change something to improve the lives of my people?" My dream is to develop the youth, the poor and the suffering in my country. With the knowledge, skills and values I have gained through the year of formation, I am now able to make my dream of giving new hope to my people come true.

Toeur, Cambodia

If I want to live with others, I must know and learn to appreciate, accept and understand others' cultures and way of life. This means I myself must understand the life-giving and death-dealing aspects of my own culture. Only then I can learn from others and help others learn from me.

Han Lina, China

A harsh and difficult childhood and experiences in a refugee camp pushed me to find answers to the questions I was asking. As I searched, the call to become God's instrument to bring education and peace to my people became clearer. I desired to organize, motivate and lead young people to discover peace and justice in their lives. Through the formation in IFFAsia, I have learned to turn challenges and difficulties into opportunities. Today my mission is simply to listen to the stories of the marginalized and build community wherever I am.
